Changeling

Umskiptingur, illustrated fiction, 2022

Changeling is an exciting story by Sigrun Eldjarn where the newest technology is used to solve a familiar riddle from Icelandic folk tales. Sigrun has charmed generations of Icelandic readers with her stories and illustrations and she wrote this fairy tale simultaneously as a book and a play.

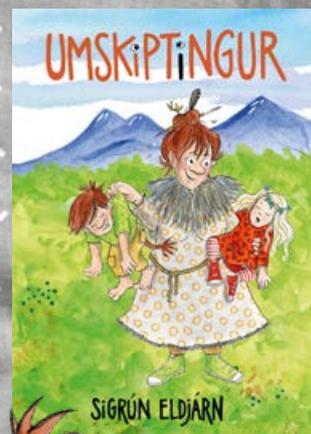

While Saevar fills his bucket with berries, his sister Bella disappears without a trace. In her place, the Troll boy Steini appears, who has no idea where he is and misses his mom. Together, the boys call for help and luckily the Super family hears them. In an instant, Super Dad, Super Sun, and Super Moon appear to save the day but they quickly realize that it won't be easy!

HARDCOVER, 18,5 x 25 cm, 64 pp

Age group: 4-8 years

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Sigrun Eldjarn (b.1954) has been one of Iceland's most beloved children's authors for the last four decades. She has written and illustrated high on fifty children's books. She was the first author to receive the IBBY Iceland Prize Sogusteinn for her literary career in 2007, having received up to that point several awards and recognition for her work, among others the Reykjavik Children's Literature Prize three times and nominations to the H.C. Andersen Award and The Nordic Council Children and Young People's Literature Prize. Sigrun Eldjarn received the Cross of the Order of the Falcon for her contribution to culture for children in Iceland.

The Swamp Monster

Ófreskjan í mýrinni,
illustrated fiction, 2022

On the outskirts of a little village stand two houses, one painted blue and surrounded by a thick grove of trees, the other one gray and run-down. Right by the houses is the swamp, vast and dangerous. No one has lived in the gray house for years, but suddenly a family appears there, a dad with triplets. They quickly realize that another family lives in the blue house, a boy with three moms. There are also some people skulking around in the swamp, whatever on Earth might they be doing there!

The Swamp Monster is a mysterious and exciting story by Sigrún Eldjárn, who has received much recognition for her work, most recently the Honorary Award of Sogur, the Icelandic Children's Awards. The story is adorned with plenty of pictures.

HARDCOVER, 17,5 x 24,5 cm, 96 pp

Alexander Daniel Hermann

Dawidsson #2

Bannað að ljúga,

illustrated fiction, 2022

Alexander Daniel Hermann Dawidsson now has an enormous family, but not an apartment that will fit them all. He has a great group of friends but unfortunately he has his enemies as well, and now he's gotten on the wrong side of a real and very dangerous criminal!

Alexander Daniel Hermann Dawidsson is not a very good liar, but sometimes he has no choice but to give it a shot. He doesn't understand people who think it's okay to lie. His ADHD hasn't gone away of course, but Alexander is always getting better at dealing with it.

The first book about Alexander Daniel Hermann Dawidsson – Do Not Destroy! – was nominated for the Nordic Council Children and Young People's Literature Prize 2022 and the 2022 West Nordic Council Children and Young People's Literature Prize.

Stella's Bonkers Family Series #6

Hanni granni dansari, fiction, 2022

Dear Reader,

*It's finally ALL happening. I'm becoming WORLD FAMOUS!
First I just need to make a few videos that get a gazillion views!
How hard can it be?*

The worst part is that some people don't want to have videos of themselves online (like Neighbour Nick), and some people upstage me and get all the attention (like Neighbour Nick (and my brother Sigg)).

And speaking of Neighbour Nick – he can really take you by surprise!

Sincerely,

Stella (social media star in the making)

Few books have met with such acclaim as the series about Stella and her family. The first four books won Iceland's Children's Choice Book Award, and the first book, My Bonkers Mum!, was also awarded the Icelandic Literary Prize. This book is the sixth installment in this wildly entertaining series.

Last Day of School

Skólaslit, illustrated fiction, 2022

A HORRIBLY FUN BOOK!

It's October 31st. Halloween. The school's walls are covered with decorations intended to scare and send a shiver down your spine. In the distance an unearthly howl can be heard. There's half of a PE teacher on the floor and from around the corner comes the sound of a limping horde of zombies. What on earth is happening? And how are the kids who haven't already become monsters going to escape?

Last Day of School is a horror story that readers won't be able to put down. The story was originally in the format of a scary Halloween calendar that Icelandic children of all ages devoured, but now appears in book form – longer and more horrific than before – with illustrations by Ari H.G. Yates. The Last Day of School project received the IBBY spring award, the Reykjanesbær Education Committee's Encouragement Award and was nominated for the Parents' Award of the Heimili and Skóli movement.

Franken Claus

Frankensleikir, illustrated fiction, 2022

The questions echoed in Fjola's head. What in the world could they mean? Don't exist? Then who had left gifts in her shoe? And who would bring her gifts from now on? What had happened to them? Who hobbled over wood floors if not Sheep-Cote Clod? Who slammed doors if not Door-Slammer? Who licked bowls if not Bowl-Licker?

Christmas is coming and Fjola is excited. Soon she'll put her shoe out in the window, the first Yule Lad comes to town in two days. But then her parents tell her the preposterous news that the Yule Lads don't exist. Fjola can see right away that this can't be the case and sets out to put things in order. In the process, it comes in handy that her big brother Hrolfur is obsessed with werewolves, selkies, mermaids, and other creatures of the deep and knows all there is to know about Frankenstein's monster.

This is Eirikur's first book for children, richly illustrated by Elias Runi.

Aevar Thor Benediktsson The Boy with the Scythe

Drengurinn með ljáinn, YA, 2022

"We have found that many of those that almost die become more sensitive for a few days afterwards."

"More sensitive how?"

"They see things that others don't."

"What kind of things?"

"People."

"Dead people?"

"Dead people."

The day that Hallur almost dies is when everything changes. He becomes the boy with the scythe and finds himself tasked with helping people cross from our world to the other side. At the same time he must keep up with his everyday life; making props for the school musical and avoiding certain people from his class who enjoy making his life miserable.

The Boy with the Scythe is a fast-paced, funny and compelling coming-of-age story about life, death, grief, love and what to do when you suddenly become the teenage version of the grim reaper. The illustrations that have taken over the book are by Sigurjon Lindal Benediktsson.
